For one-on-one technical support, you'll need a support plan. Whether you're new to Azure or already building business-critical applications, our support plans provide expert guidance from Azure engineers who will work with you to prevent and solve problems. By upgrading to a plan you agree to the offer details.

- Getting started on Azure - Developer plan $29/month
For developers or teams looking to quickly and effectively get started on Azure, technical support is available weekdays from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM with initial response times under 8 business hours.
- Production use of Azure - Standard plan $100/month
For teams running production applications, get 24x7 technical support and fast initial response times under 2 hours.
- Business-critical use of Azure - Professional Direct plan $1,000/month
For business-critical applications, a cloud advisor provides guidance and advocacy to help improve reliability and optimize costs. You also get 24x7 technical support with the fastest initial response times under 1 hour.
- No technical support, or I am already covered through Microsoft Premier support.
